

Effective Date: Amended 2025 06 04

Review Date: 2026

1. Background:

The Language Proficiency Testing Regulation, M.R. 91/2024 (“the regulation”) was officially registered on September 27, 2024. This regulation dictates specific requirements that must be met when evaluating an applicant’s language proficiency.

The MVMA has historically relied on the national language proficiency standard set by the National Examining Board (NEB). The regulation prescribes that the MVMA accept language proficiency exams that are not currently accepted by the NEB.

This policy is created as a stop gap measure that will remain in place until a more thorough review of language proficiency standards is completed by the NEB.

2. Purpose:

This policy is enacted to ensure that the MVMA complies with the regulation.

3. Policy Statement:

The MVMA seeks to establish additional testing pathways for applicants that are based on the best available information.

4. Procedure:

An applicant has up to two (2) years to submit language test results to the MVMA. Test results will then remain valid until the applicant receives a final registration decision from the MVMA.

The MVMA will accept the following language proficiency examinations and scores* in addition to all examinations accepted by the NEB:

Canadian English Language Proficiency Index Program (CELP) General Test	International English Language Testing System (IELTS) General Test	Test de connaissance du français (TCF Canada)
